Occupational Health, Safety and Environment Policy

West Coast Engineering Co., Ltd. is a provider of engineering services and general services in accordance with the requirements of its customers. The Company regards the occupational health and safety management system and the environmental management system as essential to the conduct of its business. The Company therefore declares its intent to establish an occupational health, safety and environment management system as follows:

1. Implement and develop the occupational health, safety and environment management system appropriately and in compliance with the requirements of the law and other requirements to which the Company has agreed.
2. Establish objectives and targets for occupational health, safety and environment performance, including the operation, monitoring, evaluation and review of activities for continual improvement and development.
3. Recognize the importance of preventing and assessing the risks of hazards, including various environmental impacts, and act to ensure that the systems for preventing and correcting such risks are implemented effectively, so as to reduce accidents and prevent work-related illnesses.
4. Control and reduce the use of resources cost-effectively for maximum benefit; control and minimize impacts on the environment by appropriately eliminating and treating the pollutants and waste arising from operational processes; and protect the environment by promoting the reduction and control of greenhouse gas emissions arising from the use of energy in the Company's activities, and by joining campaigns to prevent global warming.
5. Provide support in terms of personnel, time, budget, training, consultation and the participation of all employees and relevant parties, in order to build awareness of and compliance with the prescribed standards and methods, regarding this as the responsibility of every employee.

In order to fulfil the intent of this Policy, the Company will carry out its activities appropriately and effectively in line with the prescribed standards. This Occupational Health, Safety and Environment Policy is communicated to all employees and relevant parties so that they acknowledge, understand and can earnestly put it into practice, and it is ready to be disclosed to the general public.
